I. About the School

Hope Christian High School is a non-stock, non-profit educational institution.

School History

1945

After liberation from the Japanese occupation, the city of Manila was in ruins. Chinese schools were unable to reopen immediately. Ms. Yu Bun Pek and Mr. Wang Yu Min initiated the organization of a tuition-free school. With the approval of Pastor Silas Wong, and under the leadership of Elder Keng Leng Kiat, the United Chinese Evangelical Church of the Philippines unanimously passed a resolution to establish the school.

1946

The school then named "Chia Nan" officially opened. Classes were held below the United Chinese Evangelical Church of the Philippines. Mrs. Julia Tan became its first principal.

1947

On January 12, the Board of Trustees was officially established with Elder Yu Khe Thai as the chairman.

1949

The first three-storey building of "CHIA NAN" was inaugurated.

1950

After Mrs. Tan's resignation, Ms. Christina Wang was appointed as the new principal in April. The High School program was added to the curriculum. Ms. Christina Wang and Dr. Tina Holkeboer went abroad for an evangelistic campaign. Rev. Joseph Esther was appointed as the acting principal.

1952

Mr. Simon Ting and Ms. Huang Bao Soan began the Chinese High School Department. "CHIA NAN" has now grown to offer complete English and Chinese High School curricula.

1953

"CHIA NAN" was renamed HOPE CHRISTIAN HIGH SCHOOL. It used the property purchased by the Hope Christian Foundation. After Dr. Tina Holkeboer's retirement, Mrs. Joseph Esther became the Head of the English Department.

1955

The first batch of High School Senior Students of the English Department (Batch Anchor) graduated. There were 9 students.

1956

The Hope Christian Foundation purchased a lot that was later used as the site of the new church building. The first batch of seniors of the Chinese Department graduated.

1958

The Foundation decided that a playground should be constructed at the site where the old church stood.

1959

The school building that housed the high school was completed. Because of lack of space for the growing student population, the Foundation decided to use the church site for the construction of a four-storey elementary building.

1960

Ms. Christina Wang took a leave of absence to pursue further studies in the United States. The Board appointed Rev. Joseph Esther and Mrs. Esther to be the acting principals of the Chinese and English Departments, respectively.

1963

The old church building was torn down, paving the way for the construction of a new church building.

1965

In April, Ms. Christina Wang became ill and underwent a major operation in May. Soon after, she left for Taiwan to continue her treatment. In her absence, the Administrative Committee headed by Rev. Joseph Esther took over her administrative duties.

1966

After faithfully serving the Lord for sixteen years, Ms. Christina Wang went home to be with the Lord on January 31. Mrs. Hwang Bao Yu was appointed by the school board as the new principal.

1968

During the summer of this year, the high school building was remodeled and the elementary building was reconstructed.

1969

Miss Gregoria G. Beltran, who was then the vice-principal, was sent to the United States to study the latest trends in education.

1970

The School Board appointed Ms. Gregoria G. Beltran to succeed Mrs. Hwang Bao Yu as the school principal. In August, the school Board, under the chairmanship of Chiong Phai Hun, together with the Foundation, purchased another lot. The house standing on the lot owned by Elder Ty Han Eng was remodeled to become classrooms for kindergarten pupils. An indoor gymnasium was also constructed.

1976

With the growing population of the Kindergarten Department, the board purchased an adjacent lot.

1978

In August, construction of a new kindergarten building started.

1979

The new four-storey kindergarten building was completed. The first three floors of the building housed the classrooms and offices of the Kindergarten Department. The fourth floor was an auditorium with a seating capacity of one thousand (1000).

1983

With the student population reaching more than three thousand (3000), the School Board, with the Alumni Fellowship, purchased another lot with a residential building adjacent to the elementary building on April 19.

1986

The existing residential house was remodeled to house the carpentry and cooking classrooms. The ground floor was converted into a cafeteria. Four (4) Quonset hut-type of classrooms were put up for the first graders.

1987

The School Board appointed Ms. Encarnacion Beltran, Mrs. Chua Nay Sun Sy, and Dr. Marian Shih as Assistant Principals for English Instruction, Chinese Instruction, and Administrative Affairs respectively. In April, the High School Program was granted "Level II" accredited status by the Association of Christian Schools and Colleges, Accrediting Agency Incorporated (ACSC-AAI).

1988

The construction of the six-storey Alumni Building started in August. The Kindergarten and Elementary Programs were granted "Level II" accredited status by ACSC-AAI.

1989

The Alumni Building was inaugurated in November during the school's 43rd founding anniversary. This building housed Grades IV-VI classrooms, a large Home Economics Room, Music Room, Computer Laboratory, Speech and Science Laboratory, and other offices.

1996

The school celebrated its 50th (Golden) Founding Anniversary with a year-long program of activities, culminating with a cultural presentation at the Cultural Center of the Philippines on November 2-3.

1997

The Board of Trustees appointed Ms. Wanda Po Liam Giok as Principal and Rev. Stewart A. Young and Mrs. Rosita Co Te as Assistant Principal for Academic Affairs for English and Chinese, respectively.

1998

Technological innovations were introduced across the school such as computerized assessment of tuition fees. The offices were also provided with computers and Internet access and teachers were trained in the use of computers. Computers used by students in the laboratories were upgraded. For the first time, Chinese computer lessons were offered to the senior students.

In partnership with our mother church, the United Evangelical Church of the Philippines (UECP), Hope Christian High School organized a career retreat for seniors - Experience '98. This was a three-day, two-night event held at Crown Peak Hotel in Subic. In December of this year, the Children's Choir presented the musical, The Ornament, at the school auditorium.

1999

Further innovations were introduced as teachers were trained in the use of Microsoft Excel for computation of grades. The school's website was launched in November in time for the school's 53rd founding anniversary.

The graduating seniors, Batch Resplendence, staged a youth musical, Friends Forever, as a tribute to their parents, teachers, and friends.

2000

For a more conducive learning environment, the School Board undertook the air-conditioning of classrooms in the Kindergarten and Alumni Building during the summer. A student center named E-Center was put up in the lower chapel of the old church building, providing an alternative place for students to hang out after class. The E-Center is open to all high school students and offers services such as tutorial, counseling, Bible studies, prayer support, recreational games, among others.

A comprehensive reading and intervention program was started for the Elementary Department. New facilities were introduced. A new stage lighting system was added in the auditorium in time for the Renaissance Batch's (2003) performance of a Christian teen musical entitled Glow in the Dark. Added to this, a computer biometric timing device was introduced to keep track of the personnel's attendance.

2004

Communication channels were improved. The school's Alumni and External Affairs Office was created under the Office of the Principal, the purpose of which is to bridge the gap between the school and her alumni and the larger community. Moreover, the school's updated website www.hchs.edu.ph and a new website for Hope alumni, www.hopealumni.org, were launched.

More preparations were made to give way for newer infrastructure. In preparation for the demolition of the high school building, the elementary building was renovated and installed with air-conditioning units to house the high school students. The school was granted an official permit by the Bureau of Immigration to admit foreign students.

2005

The school became a member of the US-based Association of Christian Schools International. A partnership with Centro Escolar University was forged to provide a continual education program for teachers and support services for special students and students with learning disabilities.

The old high school building was demolished over the summer to give way to the new high school building. More innovations were introduced as a new enrollment system was set up wherein various schemes of payment were offered. Also, magnetic white boards were installed in all classrooms to replace the traditional chalkboards.

2006

The school celebrated her 60th founding anniversary with a year-long list of events including a school musical program called Hope: Only Hope, an alumni concert, a trade fair and a grand alumni homecoming. In preparation for the event, the school repainted all her existing buildings, and

An intensive reading program for elementary and high school students developed by the world's fastest reader, Dr. Teresa Calderon, was adopted. This program aims to develop students' vocabulary, comprehension skills, literary appreciation skills, study skills and other various reading competencies. Another highlight is the school's partnership with Pru-Life UK to launch Cha-Ching, a financial literacy program for elementary students.

2013-2014

Two major partnerships with foreign schools were forged in the first half of 2013. A kangaroo has short hind legs and a long tail enabling it to only move forward. HCHS believes the school is like a kangaroo moving forward to new discoveries, and conquering new heights with confidence. Like how a mother kangaroo carefully looks after her young in the pouch, so does our teacher “Joy” (the mother kangaroo) embrace each student in her care. HCHS desires that every student will come to know Christ and become a mature and growing Christian (“Cris” – the joey or the baby kangaroo). As the students move forward to new places, they will continue to exhibit Christ-likeness in their speech and action.

Our School Teacher Persona

The HCHS Teacher Persona is derived from the Biblical character Lois, known as the grandmother of Timothy and the mother of Eunice. Lois was described in the Scriptures as someone who handled the Word of God wisely and well, passing on the legacy of faith and love to the next generations. HCHS embodies Lois' passing on of faith and love in the present generation and of hope for the eternal future.

STATEMENT OF FAITH

The Holy Bible is the inspired infallible Word of God. The Bible is the sole authority of living. The truths contained within the sixty-six books of the Old Testament and the New Testament are relevant in all matters of life and faith.

There is one Triune God, eternally existing in three persons - Father, Son and Holy Spirit. They are co-eternal in being, co-identical in nature, and co-equal in power and authority.

The Lord Jesus Christ is fully God and man. He is the only begotten Son of God, was born of the Virgin Mary, and dwelled sinless among men in order that God's righteousness and man's sinfulness may be revealed.

Man was created in the image of God and endowed with dignity. However, man has fallen and is inherently sinful. He is alienated from God, spiritually dead, and in dire need of redemption.

The substitution and vicarious death of Christ through the shedding of His blood is the basis of man's atonement and salvation from sin. This act of redemption was completely accomplished through the death, burial, and bodily resurrection of the Lord Jesus Christ.

Salvation is a free gift from God brought to man entirely by grace through personal faith in the person and works of the Lord Jesus Christ. Once a person acknowledges Jesus Christ as the Savior and Lord of his life, and through the power of the Holy Spirit who dwells in him, he is tasked to live a life of holiness, in fellowship with other believers in love, unity, and in accordance to the teachings of God's Word, anticipating the return of Christ.

PHILOSOPHY OF EDUCATION

Our philosophy of education is premised on a God-centered view that all truth is God's truth, and that the Bible is the inspired and only infallible authoritative Word of God that contains this truth. God created all things and sustains all things. Therefore, the universe and humanity are dynamically related to God and have the purpose of glorifying Him. All humans are sinners by nature and choice; therefore, they cannot glorify or know God. Only by receiving God's free gift of salvation through God's Son and committing his/her life to the Lordship of Jesus Christ can humans know God and be reconciled to Him.

We aim to provide a Christian perspective on life; and the Word from which will come a balanced personality and proper understanding and acceptance of one's role in life at home, at work, at play, and at worship - all grounded in the Christian concept of truth and life. This philosophy channels our energies to promote high academic standards while helping students to achieve skills in creative and critical thinking using the best integrated curriculum materials. The objective of our instructional program is to enable the students to pursue the post-secondary education of their choosing whether in college, university, or vocational training.

Our education for the students encompasses the spiritual, mental, intellectual, physical, social and emotional dimensions. These are inseparable and through them all run the thread of the spiritual. Therefore, we shun the tendency to teach the Bible compartmentally or on the intellectual level alone. Christian thought must be interwoven throughout the curriculum.

The role of the teacher is primarily to be an acceptable model of Christian living. The teacher must initiate a climate for the teaching-learning process. The teacher must be skilled in facilitating knowledge vital to living the Christian life and in guiding students through their experiences in the educational process. In addition, the teacher must genuinely love each learner. He/she must recognize his/her responsibility before God and must depend completely upon the Holy Spirit to achieve the desired results.

The role of the learner is to be engaged in the teaching-learning process. The learner is an inquirer, discoverer, agent, and assessor of the knowledge, feelings and behaviors that are taught and experienced. The curriculum is the medium, whether content material or life experience selected for use in the teaching-learning process to achieve the goals of HCHS' education. Our curriculum also adheres closely to the minimum learning competencies required by the Department of Education.

- Parents will be responsible for maintaining regular communication with the school and participating in school activities.
- Parents will be responsible for supporting the school policies and programs.

GUIDELINES ON DISCIPLINE

There are two reasons why discipline has to be observed within the school. One is to motivate the students to become better. The other is to prevent students from behaving in undesirable ways. The school is concerned with the strengthening of the students' character. It wants to impress the importance of rules and regulations, respect for law and authority, and inculcate a sense of morality and good behavior.

The school's authority to discipline governs all students in any of the following circumstances:

- While the student is officially enrolled in the school
- Anytime within the school campus and vicinity
- At school-related activities (in and off campus)
- Anytime the students are wearing the school uniform
- In any circumstance when it is clear to an outsider that a student is from HCHS

All students are expected to report any violation of school rules and regulations to the school authorities especially if the safety and welfare of a school community member is at stake.

As a member of the HCHS family, a HCHS student has the responsibility to help promote the general welfare of the members of the school community.

Upon enrolment at Hope Christian High School, the student, together with his/her parents, signifies his/her intention to accept and abide by the rules and regulations of the school.

The school has the final authority in establishing and interpreting school rules. This means that the school has the authority to:

- Determine what is and what is not acceptable behavior for the students;
- Classify offenses, and
- Decide on the corresponding intervention based on aggravating and mitigating circumstances.

Note: Occurrence of offenses are counted on a yearly basis.

EXTENSION is extended time given to students to do extension tasks whether on a school day or Saturdays depending on the offense committed. Extension can be before or after school time. Prompt compliance is required. Student who fails to comply will be given extra hours of extension.

RESTRICTION is the temporary deferment of the student to participate in designated activities or be in certain areas.

SUSPENSION

- Suspension refers to the school's prevention of a student from attending class and from taking any examinations, quizzes and graded recitations given during the specified period, which will henceforth be marked zero (0). Students will be responsible for missed class activities to cope with the class. Suspension can be served at home or in-school.

- Preventive Suspension is a temporary removal of the student charged for major violations/offenses of school rules while the investigation is ongoing.

HCHS Philosophy of Inclusive Education

As a private Christian educational institution, Hope Christian High School believes that education is a basic human right, and regardless of gender, race, religion, or socio-economic status, students deserve the same access to the best quality of education. It recognizes the rights of all learners including those with disabilities to an "inclusive, equitable, relevant, and quality basic education by providing them effective and efficient educational services that will enable them to become well-rounded, happy, and productive individuals." DepEd Order No. 044, s. 2021

Given its resources, the school is committed to providing an inclusive educational program and the best possible K-12 educational opportunity, aiming to meet international standards in all of its programs, from Preschool to Senior High School. To achieve this goal, it provides and implements the International Baccalaureate Primary Years Programme (PYP) for its Primary and Elementary School and the Middle Years Programme (MYP) for its Junior High School program to all its students.

The school further believes that everyone has the responsibility to fulfill the measure of their creation and potential. Therefore, as a private school, the school, with its administration, support and teaching staff, aims to provide an inclusive education to all its students, with the commitment to meet the diversity of learning needs and styles, provide safe learning spaces for all, and remove learning barriers to fulfill this responsibility through the resources and support it is capable of providing within its context, as stipulated in DepEd Order No. 43, s. 2013 and DepEd Order No. 44, s. 2021.

Procedures for Identifying Learning Needs

Understanding that students come from various educational backgrounds and needs when they are admitted into the school, HCHS follows a thoughtful approach to meet the learning as well as socio-emotional needs of students.

1. Initial Assessment of Learning Needs

Identifying student needs starts with the assessment during the admission process and continues until students conclude their education and meet their educational goals. The admission and the guidance offices assess the following:

- a. General academic preparedness of students
Assessment includes intelligence tests and review of previous academic preparation as shown in report cards from other schools.
- b. Literacy skills
Assessment includes reading and writing skills necessary to meet the literacy expectations in Junior High School.

c. Numeracy skills

These include the foundational skills in math required to meet the numeracy demands in Junior High School.

Based on the interview and assessment, the guidance office makes appropriate recommendations to parents to meet their learning needs, whether language, literacy, remediation, or enrichment as outlined in the Provisions for Learning section.

As stated in the admission policy, students diagnosed with special needs and exceptionalities are accepted, with the school collaborating with parents and guardians who provide for the additional assessment, resources, and support, required or given by outside specialists.

2. Instructional Assessment of Learning Needs

Understanding that students come at different learning levels and with different background knowledge, teachers provide an instructional inquiry cycle that initially assesses both skills and background knowledge. Thereafter, teachers provide differentiation of learning, either enrichment or remediation as needed, identified below in the provisions section.

Depending on the needs of students, the teacher provides or may recommend the following:

- a. Level 1 remedial intervention: Teachers provide after school support and level 1 remedial intervention, i.e., remediation of concepts and skills within core subjects which include the following:
  - i. reviewing previous grade or unit concepts and skills
  - ii. reteaching concepts from previous units of inquiry or lessons
  - iii. providing additional practice to fill in learning gaps
  - iv. providing help during the consultation period
- b. Level 2 After school intervention: Depending on the need or when student level is below one or two grade levels, teachers may recommend level 2 after school intensive intervention, i.e., intensive support beyond school services and hours. Teachers engage parents, guardians, and students in collaborative efforts to remove barriers of learning that may include behavioral and socio-emotional factors.

The Guidance Office also regularly reviews the progress of students as shown in their report cards and other data points such as standardized and Lexile test results. After reviewing such data, the school through its guidance office may initiate meetings with and give appropriate advice to teachers, parents, and teachers.

3. Assessment of Special Needs

In situations where the initial admission procedure has not identified special learning needs and where regular differentiation support and remediation do not meet student learning needs, teachers may refer the case to the guidance counselors who may provide assistance and/or advice for further advice or recommendation to students and parents, remediation, or possible intervention.

In cases where specific special needs have become apparent and after careful review of instructional remediation and documentation provided by general education teachers, the guidance counselor may convene a student study team (SST), composed of an administrator, guidance counselor, subject teachers, parents, the student, and a learning specialist, and recommend to parents to seek outside assessment by specialists such as an occupational therapist, a developmental pediatrician, or a special education specialist.

Depending on the recommendations of specialists, parents may seek and provide for outside support services such as a shadow teacher, while the school general education teachers can provide students with modifications of the curriculum or accommodations in its implementation as required by the learning plan.

Collaborative SST meetings are held annually or as needed to monitor and assess progress of the individualized learning plan. During the meeting, teachers provide the student's present level of performance, from which the group decides whether to amend or keep the individualized learning plan.

Provisions for Diverse Learning Needs

1. A Challenging Curriculum

HCHS implements the Primary Years and Middle Years Programmes that provide for a challenging framework in all subject areas. The Middle Years Programme is inquiry-based, conceptually-driven, and constructivist in approach where students participate in determining inquiry questions with answers that require real-life applications. With the guidance of the teachers, students construct their own understanding of the world and apply these concepts in real life not only in specific subjects but also across subject areas, providing depth and complexity to the concepts they learn.

Additionally, subject area objectives and criteria require investigations, creativity and critical thinking, collaboration and communication, self-management and self-regulation as students explore content standards identified by national and international curricula.

For good measure, students at grade 10 are required to pursue their own interest or project in any subject area, one that requires creativity and/or critical thinking and one that they conceptualize, plan, and implement themselves with the mentorship of a supervisor.

In conclusion, this curricular and instructional framework sets challenging learning standards but is flexible enough to meet the needs of varied groups of learners including the following:

- (1) Gifted and talented or the highly capable--students who exhibit high levels of task commitment, creativity, and above average academic ability (Renzulli and Smith, 1978);

- (2) High achieving students--students achieving advanced levels of proficiency in specific subject areas in the standardized test for at least two years in a row.

2. Differentiated Instruction for All

In implementing the Middle Years Programme, HCHS employs differentiated instructional practices to serve the diverse needs of students including students with competencies or skills that fall one or two above or below the students' grade level. HCHS teachers are trained and equipped with level one instructional strategies, i.e., strategies adapting the content, process, or product of learning to the needs and levels of students.

During the class inquiry process, teachers provide individualized inquiry opportunities to students including those highly capable to extend their learning along relevant topics of their own choice. Small group engagement tasks also provide opportunities for differentiated instruction to specific needs.

For students with language needs or limited English proficiency, teachers front load concept vocabulary using various strategies such as Frayer model, word visualization, and word analysis. Teachers present video representations of reading topics, scaffolding the gap between their background knowledge and reading level on one hand and the level of the reading material on the other.

The school provides level two ancillary programs: an independent reading program--Scholastic reading program and an intensive language program for limited English proficient students to facilitate their reading and language development. Teachers train students in the specific steps of the writing process, e.g. brainstorming, organizing, revising, and editing to develop writing skills. Furthermore, teachers provide sentence starters and paragraph frames, and other strategies to help students with their writing needs especially in the core subject areas and to facilitate grade level learning.

Where and when feasible, teachers provide differentiated content materials accessible to student language or skills levels, without compromising the standards set by the national curriculum and the MYP framework implemented by the school or interfering with the pacing of the regular instructional plan.

Universal Design of Learning: Multiple Means of Learning

Following Universal Design of Learning (UDL) principles, teachers also provide students with multiple ways of engagement, representation, and expression in the learning process, which meet the learning style needs of all students. Specifically, teachers provide the following:

- a. multiple means of engaging students in the learning process by providing a variety of tasks that engage various modes of learning: kinesthetic, visual, verbal, and auditory or a combination thereof.
- b. variety of choices in representing the content and products of learning through the use of various media: print, video, and/or audio, and
- c. variety of ways of expressing ideas either verbally, in writing, or other means including the assistance and use of technology or computers and the option to use their stronger or preferred mode of learning.

4. School-Wide Social-Emotional Learning and Information Literacy Programs

In addition to the regular advisement and as part of school's commitment to implement an inclusive education, the Guidance Office, in collaboration with homeroom teachers, provides for a regular socio-emotional learning training (SEL) program that covers self-management and self-regulation skills.

This program specifically trains students in self-management skills such as goal-setting, time-management, and developing action plan; and in self-regulation skills such as becoming aware of and managing emotions and stress, persevering, and other socio-emotional skills. This is implemented in the Homeroom Program together with the character and values educational program mandated by the national curriculum.

5. After-School Co-curricular Enrichment Programs

In addition to the above, the school offers enriching co-curricular activities after school hours for students with interests and capabilities in the following areas:

- a. Robotics
- b. Journalism
- c. International and Local Math Competition Training
- d. Performing Arts: Dance and Music
- e. Team Sports
- f. Chess

Adaptable Expectations in Maximizing Potentials

The school offers various learning programs and differentiated instructional practices to meet the diverse needs of students, keeping in mind the diversity of capabilities, adapting expectations with the aim of maximizing the potential of individual students and achieving optimum learning outcomes.

Continuing Professional Development Program

The school is committed to providing teachers and staff with continued professional development programs as it provides challenging as well as differentiated programs in terms of remediation, intervention, and enrichment.

6. Universal Design of Learning (UDL) is a framework based on three core principles: varied modes of engaging students in terms of activities, multiple choices or means of representing content and products, and varied ways of expressing ideas.
7. Differentiation is a teaching strategy aimed at meeting the individual student needs by adapting the content, process, and product of learning as part of the enrichment program or remediation plan.

ATTENDANCE POLICIES

Every student is required to adhere to the policies established by the Department of Education regarding school attendance. Any student who commits twenty percent (20%) absence of the prescribed number of classes may be dropped from the official student list. The Department of Education requires every student to be present for at least 80% of the total number of days in a school year.

ABSENCES

Uninterrupted daily attendance is extremely important to the total development of the child. Therefore, regular, daily, punctual attendance is required. There are two reasons for excused absences: (1) illness, (2) bereavement. If there is a medical appointment during the school day, please see the supervisor. If possible, please make such appointments after school hours. In the event of illness, a parent may send an excuse letter to the teacher. A medical certificate or letter may be required for verification. It would be the responsibility of the student to keep up with class and course work. Every student is expected to make up any work missed because of absences.

A student who will be away from school for more than 3 days must file a leave of absence. The parents should write a letter of request before the leave. As a matter of policy, the school would only excuse a leave of absence due to the following reasons: health, emergency, death in a family. All vacations and trips should be scheduled during holidays or during the summer.

Students with perfect attendance and no tardy incurred for the entire school year will be awarded the Punctuality Award and Perfect Attendance Award. Any absences designated as Excused or Unexcused will be counted for the purpose of ascertaining the 100%. Only activities specifically exempted by the school (like outside competitions) will not be counted as accrued absences.

TARDIES

Absences represent a lack of responsibility which results in disturbance of the classroom activity. The student will be considered late if s/he is not in the assigned seat or at the workstations when the class begins or when the morning prayer starts. Responding quickly to the school bell shows the student's desire to be punctual. Students coming in 15 minutes late from the start of the class time is considered absent. Reasons like over-sleeping is not acceptable. Disciplinary actions will be given in accordance to the number of tardiness on a periodical basis. However, tardiness may place him/her on probationary status.

No. of Times Late	Effect on Deportment Grade	Action Taken
1-3	No deduction in letter grade	1 st Notice on Tardiness will be issued on the third tardy with Parent-Teacher Conference
4-6	Will go down one letter grade	2 nd Notice on Tardiness will be issued on the sixth tardiness
7		Extension time
8-10	Will go down two letter grades	4 th Notice on Tardiness will be issued on the tenth tardiness
11		Administrative / Academic Duty
12-14	Will go down three letter grades	5 th Notice on Tardiness will be issued on the fourteenth tardiness
15		Suspension
16 or more	Will go down four-letter grades	Suspension/Appropriate disciplinary intervention
20 or more	C-	Disciplinary Probation Status / Candidate for Dismissal

ANNOUNCEMENT OF CLASS SUSPENSION

As ordered by the Department of Education (DepEd) under DepEd Order No. 43, s. 2012 and Executive Order No. 66, s 2012:

Storm Signal 1 automatically cancel classes for Preschool and Signal Number 2 and above for Grade School to Senior High School. In case of inclement weather, even when there is no typhoon signal, and in view of the propensity of the school area to be flooded, you may listen to radio stations like DZMM, FM 101.1, FM 90.7, or to the television and internet (www.pagasa.com or HCHS' Facebook Page) for official announcement. Alternatively, you may call the school at 53108071 to 73. Political unrest and other severe natural calamities may also warrant a school suspension. For mid-day suspension by the Department of Education and/or Manila City Government, dismissal time will be at lunch time.

EXTENDED SCHOOL DAYS

If the required number of school days is not met due to typhoon, natural calamity, political unrest or other causes, the school may hold classes on Saturday or extend class hours during the weekdays to fulfill the minimum required number of days.

ACADEMIC POLICIES

GRADING SYSTEM

PRESCHOOL - GRADES 6

The school year is divided into three terms. At the end of each term, each student will be evaluated based on his/her level of proficiency in various competencies and skills in each learning area. The student's proficiency level is communicated through the following:

- Beginning (B) = the student struggles with his/her understanding of the concept; the pre-requisite and fundamental knowledge and/or skills and competencies have not been acquired or developed adequately to aid understanding.
- Developing (D) = the student possesses the minimum knowledge and skills, but needs help in certain areas, and throughout the performance of authentic tasks.
- Approaching Proficiency (AP) = the student has developed the fundamental knowledge and skills with a little guidance from others; able to transfer understanding through authentic performance tasks.
- Proficient (P) = the student has developed the fundamental knowledge and skills, and able to transfer understanding independently through authentic performance tasks.
- Advanced (A) = the student exceeded the core requirements in terms of knowledge, concepts, skills and competencies, and is able to transfer them automatically through authentic performance tasks.

Components	Unit of Inquiry (UOI)	Literacy, Numeracy and Filipino	Character. Education	Art	Bible, ICT, Music and HELE	PE
Written Works	40%	40%	40%	60%	50%	20%
Performance Task	40%	30%	60%	40%	50%	60%
Summative Assessment	20%	30%				20%

Components for Assessment:

Formative Assessment

Formative assessment is interwoven with learning. It aids the teacher in finding out what the students already know and can do. It is characterized by continuous and constant monitoring by the teacher of a student's readiness, skill development and concept understanding with the aim of providing feedback to the student's learning. Formative assessments are given regularly and carried out at the end of a regular class time.

Summative Assessment

Summative assessment occurs at the end of a specific teaching period or a unit. It is the culmination of skills and knowledge learned in the unit and provides students with opportunities to demonstrate their understanding and apply their knowledge in various ways.

Assessment Strategies and Tools:

Assessment gives feedback to teachers regarding a student's learning and development. Students likewise take responsibility for their own learning and development and take part in the assessment process by constantly doing self-evaluation and reflection. Parents are periodically informed and updated about their child's progress and given feedback as to how they can help their child at home.

Teachers use varied methods to gather information relevant to student learning. This includes observation, performance tasks/performance assessments, note-taking/learning logs, tests/quizzes, and open-ended tasks. Teachers collect these data and record this information using the following methods: rubrics, exemplars, continuums, checklist and anecdotal records.

FOR MYP (GRADES 7-10)

A. Assessment Principles

The HCHS community and stakeholders adhere to the following principles that embody the core values of assessment and believe in the importance of assessment tools and strategies to promote learning progress and maximize learning.

1. Assessment as an ongoing Process

Assessment occurs throughout the learning cycle: before, during, and after the learning process. Teachers develop the unit of inquiry engagement tasks based on what students know, understand, and can do. Students progress through the process of achieving the unit objectives at different rates, and teachers need to adapt the unit of inquiry accordingly, therefore the need to assess throughout the learning process.

2. The Role of Formative Assessment

a. Assessment for Learning: Assessment to identify learning needs

Before starting a unit of inquiry, teachers use a variety of formative assessment tools to identify gaps in learning and adapt instruction to student learning needs such as the following:

(1) standardized achievement test that the school administers to students to find the school's, section's, and students' achievement and competency levels

(2) diagnostic assessment that teachers develop to find out student content knowledge and performance levels for a particular unit of inquiry. This may come in the form of approaches to teaching strategies such as I see, I Think, I wonder; Think, Puzzle, Explore; or KWL and variations thereof.

Teachers build on current student knowledge and skills, reviewing and reteaching concepts that they may have missed but are crucial to their learning progress. In cases where preliminary assessment shows very limited previous knowledge and very low ability to access the regular curriculum, corresponding interventions are recommended to parents.

During the learning process, teachers continue to use formative assessments to find out what students are learning and how they are successful in teaching essential concepts and skills. This may come in the form of quizzes, entrance and exit tickets of various types, and other informal strategies such as thumbs up, thumbs down, thumbs sideways. These formative assessment strategies allow teachers to inform their instruction, e.g., adapting future activities, clarifying concepts, reteaching essential concepts, or providing additional practice to further develop skills.

b. Assessment as Learning: Self-reflection and Self-assessment

(1) Self-Reflection

In addition, teachers engage students in metacognitive self-reflection of the ‘what’ and the ‘how’ of learning. They engage in end-of-unit reflection of (1) concepts they have learned and engagements tasks that worked for them, (2) connections to other disciplines and their own life, (3) changes in or development of important attributes in the IB MYP student profile of becoming better Inquirers, thinkers, communicators, risk-takers, or becoming more principled, open-minded, caring, balanced, knowledgeable, and finally (4) challenges they still face in their own learning.

Some disciplines or subjects groups such as Art, Design and P.E. require reflection or self-assessment of eportfolio.

(2) ATL Self-Assessment

Students are provided opportunities to self-assess their own critical and creative thinking, socio-communicative, and self-management skills. Students reflect on these skills at strategic points during the process specifically where those skills are focused on in engagement tasks, e.g. collaborative, communicative, and critical thinking self assessment after a collaborative or group activity. Teachers explicitly teach Approaches to Learning (ATL) strategies that students use to meet engagement tasks and to become lifelong learners in the following five broad categories of 21st Century Skills:

- (1) collaborative skills where students need to learn to share, take turns, clarify, take on collaborative roles;
- (2) communicative skills such as presenting, explaining, persuading while using various media to support their communication skills;
- (3) critical thinking skills such as comparing, analyzing, respectfully asking for and providing evidence for ideas, evaluating and reflecting on ideas;
- (4) creative thinking or transferring skills to new situations, composing literary or artistic works, and producing innovative solutions;
- (5) self-management or self-regulation skills such as planning, organizing, and carrying out inquiries, projects, or activities; and affective skills such as persevering, managing stress, and other socio-emotional skills such as growth mindset.

Students engage in self-reflective skills that assess their own level of achievement in these major categories of Approaches to Learning (ATL) and at the same time think of ways to improve on those skills.

3. Summative Assessment as Evidence of Achievement Levels

c. Assessment of Learning: Assessment to identify levels of achievement

At the end of an instructional period, teachers administer summative assessments to determine the level of student performance by comparing student performance using a rubric with criteria descriptors in band levels of 1-2, 3-4, 5-6, and 7-8. At HCHS, these are defined by the MYP subject objectives and criteria (see Appendix A) and broadly reflect the Department of Education's standards and competencies.

Group Summative Assessment

Hope Christian High School values the importance of collaborative skills and provides opportunities to develop these skills in performance of understanding tasks. Some Summative Performance Tasks may require initial group activity such as scientific investigations but should be carefully assessed based on the individual work done by students. In the case of scientific investigation, the experiment could be done as a group but the presentation, analysis, interpretation, and evaluation of data should be done individually. This is different from collaborative engagement tasks done in class where students work as a team, whereas the summative assessment performance tasks should be done individually and separately from others.

In cases where collaborative work is necessary to complete a summative assessment task, delineation of each individual's part in the whole project is essential to assess the individual student's level of achievement and assessed against the subject criteria.

B. Recording Assessment Results

HCHS records assessment tasks through its official learning management system that parents and students can access. These assessment tasks are categorized into three groups: (1) summative assessment tasks, (2) formative assessment tasks, and (3) self assessments and reflections.

Under the first category of summative assessments include the following:

- (1) Summative performance tasks given at the end of each unit of inquiry and are graded according to the criteria published by IB. At least two judgments of each of the four subject criteria form the sole basis of the MYP grade. Teachers use the criteria to communicate student levels of achievements in each of the objectives of the subjects. The MYP grade is given at the end of the school year.

- (2) Written Works are unit tests or long quizzes based on the concepts and application of concepts taught during a unit of inquiry.
  - (3) Term Tests are given at the end of every term, usually about three months. These tests can be the second unit of inquiry of every term and are based on concepts and skills or applications of concepts in real-life contexts.
- All of the above categories of assessments constitute the basis of the grade reported to parents and students at the end of every term.

Formative Assessments. These assessment tasks are recorded but not graded. These may include quizzes, entry and exit tickets, and other assessment tools identified in section one which teachers use to find out student background knowledge and inform instruction.

Self-Assessment and Reflections. These tasks are the students' own assessment of the developmental progress in the learning process. These may include ATL self-assessments, unit self-reflections, service activities, and self-assessments.

Reporting Achievement Levels

Hope Christian High School uses two scoring systems based on two different grading scales to identify and report the same levels of achievements.

- (1) the MYP uses a grade scale of 1-7 with well-defined descriptors for each level of achievement.
- (2) the Department of Education system of reporting grades with a grade scale of up to 100.

The MYP final grade is based solely on at least two judgments of summative performance tasks of all four clearly-defined criteria aligned with the disciplinary objectives (see Appendix B).

Summative performance tasks consolidate the students' disciplinary and interdisciplinary knowledge and understanding of concepts defined in the subject group overviews. The results of the summative performance task should also reflect the students' ability to apply these concepts in familiar and unfamiliar real-life and authentic contexts. These summative performance tasks should reflect the complexity and depth of the content and competency standards of the student's grade level.

The formative assessments such as quizzes, entrance and exit ticket, reflections and self-assessments of ATL skills and portfolios are recorded but not graded and are used to support the learning process.

All assessments are recorded throughout the year, while MYP grades derived from levels of achievements are reported at the end of the school year.

IB Validation of MYP Year 5 Grades through eAssessment

In MYP year 5 (grade 10), performance levels can be validated by an optional on-screen assessment of the following subject areas: Language & Literature, Individuals & Society, Mathematics, Sciences, and Interdisciplinary at the end of year 5 (grade 10) to determine comparison with international standards if the student so chooses.

Another optional eAssessment are ePortfolios in the following disciplines: Design, Physical and Health Education, Language Acquisition, and Art are also externally moderated to validate teacher judgments.

The Year 5 Personal Project is a mandatory requirement.

The Department of Education requires the reporting of grades based on the summative assessment categories with corresponding weight. (per DepEd Order No. 8, s. 2015).

Based on the Department of Education guidelines and accreditation level of the school, HCHS reports the computation of the following summative assessment categories every three months. Descriptions of each category are taken from the Department of Education Assessment Guidelines in DepEd Order No.8.s.2015.

- (1) Summative performance task (50 or 60% depending on subject group See Appendix B)
Demonstrates and integrates student knowledge, understanding, and skills about concepts, topics learned in a specific real-life situation by performing and/or producing evidence of their learning
- (2) Quarterly exams (20%)
Synthesizes all the learning skills and concepts learned in an entire quarter
- (3) Written works (20 or 30% depending on subject group. See Appendix B)
Assesses learners' understanding of concepts and application of skills in written form. Per Department of Education assessment guidelines, quizzes are recorded but not graded.

The final grade at the end of the school year is based on the average of the three reported grades at the end of each term.

Both MYP and the Department of Education grading scales are based on summative assessments, and as such support the description of achievement levels described in the following table:

MYP Grade Scoring

The table provides a means of converting the criteria totals into a final grade based on a grading scale of 1–7.

To arrive at a criteria level total for each student, teachers add together the student's final achievement levels in all four criteria of the subject group as shown in Appendix A.

Grade Boundaries for Criteria Totals*	MYP Final Grade	MYP Levels of Achievement Descriptors

DURATION OF THE TERM END ASSESSMENT

GRADE 1-10

The term end assessment days are usually scheduled for four days with two subjects per day for the first two days, one subject on the third day, and Chinese subject on the fourth day. Examination time varies from one hour to an hour and a half for Math and Science subjects. Examination for minor subjects (e.g., Bible, Computer) is given separately at an earlier scheduled time.

To give students time to review, Chinese classes are not held during English periodic examinations; likewise, there are no English classes during Chinese examinations.

GRADES 11-12

The final exams will be scheduled during the examination week. Students will take their Midterms or Final Exams with not more than three subjects per day.

PROGRESS REPORT

The progress report card is considered a legal document. Therefore, it is imperative that the student should handle it with utmost respect and responsibility. The progress report is given at the end of every term. The computer-generated progress report and student portfolio are released per term during the Parent-Teacher Conference (PTC). Three-Way Conference (Parent-Teacher-Student) is done on the Second Term and the Student-Led Conference (for Grades 1-6) is scheduled during the 3rd Term.

Any inquiry or contest of what is reported in the progress report card must be done officially in a letter addressed to the Department Supervisor within a week after the distribution of the report card. After that grace period, the grades will remain final and non-contestable. Likewise, there is a replacement fee for lost or damaged report card.

To comply with the local requirements of the Department of Education with regards to submitting numerical grades at the end of the school year, and for scholarship purposes, the school has the following numerical grade equivalents for the PYP (Preschool to Grade 6) levels:

- Beginning (74 below)
- Developing (75-80)
- Approaching Proficiency (81-89)
- Proficient (90-97)
- Advanced (98-100)

ACADEMIC INTEGRITY

Any form of cheating will be taken seriously and may result in the student receiving no credit for the paper, tests or projects. Cheating is defined as:

- a. Copying another student's work during a test or examination
- b. Asking for or giving unauthorized assistance during any exam, paper, homework assignment, project, etc.
- c. Copying work directly from a website or other sources and presenting it as one's own
- d. Using another person's ideas, work, or part of their work and presenting it as one's own; in short, plagiarizing.

Guiding Principles

Responsibility

The school commits to implementing the practices, processes, and approaches to learning and teaching as described in its programs that allow students to build and construct knowledge, apply their own understanding in real-life contexts, and communicate the same in the production of academic and scholarly work.

Credibility

Valid and accurate description and assessment of a student's own level of achievement create credibility of the school's program effectiveness. Such credible assessment, in turn, builds trust in the institution's ability to provide meaningful and effective academic programs.

Respect and Honesty

Knowledgeable and creative students submit academic products of their own independent work, understanding that their work leads to and reflects their own development as a learner and producer of academic output.

Students understand that in the process of developing their own conceptual understanding, they also build upon the work of others, and acknowledging the work of others is essential in doing authentic research work. It exhibits respect for the work of others and honesty in completing their own academic work.

Academic Community Responsibilities

School Administration

The school implements programs, structures, and procedures that support the Academic Integrity Policy and promotes authentic learning and adherence to its principles and minimize violations of the Academic Integrity Policy:

1. Implement explicit school and IB guidelines in the safekeeping and administration of assessment materials and tools during summative assessment performance tasks and e-assessments.
2. Provide for or require the following practices and structures:
  - a. Clear definitions and descriptions of academic integrity responsibilities and guidelines including consequences for infractions of the academic integrity policy.
  - b. School calendar that optimizes time to accomplish schoolwork and provides preparation for summative assessments and Term Tests.
  - c. Time-management workshops during homeroom to manage student workload.
  - d. Originality assurance checks or on-line application to determine originality of student as part of the systems and structures for authentic student work.
  - e. Structures such as turning in devices and turning off on-line information access to ensure authentic assessments.
  - f. Procedures to manage academic misconduct to ensure due process.
3. Communicate academic integrity policy and its importance through
  - a. Orientation of school community including teachers, support staff, parents and guardians
  - b. Academic honesty pledges during the admission and assessment process
4. Review academic integrity policy in accordance with IB and international practices.

Teacher and Non-Teaching Staff

Teachers are at the forefront in the implementation of the Academic Integrity Policy especially in the proper administration of assessment and in preventing violations of this policy. The following three expectations and suggestions have been taken from pages 12 and 13 of the IB

Academic Integrity Policy:

1. Adhere to school academic integrity policy and IB subject guidelines, rules, and regulations “particularly regarding the level of teacher support deemed acceptable when providing student support” and understand that students should produce work independently or on their own.
2. Emphasize that the purpose of education is not merely to earn a high grade but “acquire knowledge and to develop skills for the future.”
3. Understand that students engage in academic dishonesty due to various reasons such as lack of understanding of the purpose of education in general and the academic integrity policy in particular, lack of preparation and skills particularly research and time management skills, ease of access to on-line information, tutorial and editing services, pressure to get high grades, and others.

Specifically, using the above guidelines to promote academic integrity and the development of academic skills including those of time-management, teachers are expected to implement the following:

1. Provide a syllabus with a schedule of assignments, summative performance tasks, and required term tests.
2. Provide ample time and support that students need in creating action plans for medium-term assignments such as scientific investigation and sociological research to ensure completion of projects within reasonable periods of time.
3. Explicitly teach research skills such as note-taking, summarizing, paraphrasing, and citing references following international formats such as the APA Publication Manual.
4. Require and follow a process, e.g. project or journal log, involved in the production of academic work such as art and design works, written or oral reports, and other projects that include researching, annotating, organizing, and outlining, etc.

Providing clear guidelines and specific feedback for the completion of such work allows for the authentic production of work.

Requiring the use of a planner or a journal and/or following a process with specific output from each step in the completion of a project prevents the submission of work from Artificial Intelligence application.

5. Use formative assessment practices and tools to provide feedforward for instructional decisions and feedback for students to help them focus on areas of improvement.

6. Define individual output in group work that has to be done independently of other members of the group.
7. Require Academic Integrity Pledges for projects requiring out-of-classroom work.
8. Use quality assurance checkers for originality of work.
9. Ensure the lack of access to internet and devices during tests and arrange the classroom set-up to prevent the possibility of collusion.

Guiding Principles of the HCHS Language Policy

Hope Christian High School (HCHS) was founded in 1946 based on the need to develop the Chinese immigrant community's language and cultural heritage in its new home country, the Philippines. HCHS places premium importance not only on the development of the Chinese language and heritage but also on the development of the Filipino language and English, being the medium of instruction and communication. Consistent with the IB language philosophy, the school promotes a multilingual policy of developing English, Chinese, and Filipino languages with the aim of developing a high level of bilingual proficiency in English and the student's primary language, as well as a third language to a level it can reasonably develop.

The school adheres to the following principles:

1. The primary languages of the student body, Chinese and Filipino, mirror the socio-cultural identity of its student body, therefore the school values the importance of its continued study and development.
2. Language plays a crucial role in the cognitive development and educational goals of its students, with English being the medium through which instruction is facilitated and carried out and Filipino or Chinese as the mother tongue or primary language of its student body. Therefore, the school promotes the development of these languages to the highest level possible through the subjects and programs it offers.
3. With professional development support from the school administration, all teachers are language teachers and have responsibilities in the language development of students and in facilitating communication in their subject areas (IB Standard C1.8.3).

Language Programs and Practices

The school develops and implements the following programs and practices that support the above principles that are consistent with IB and national curriculum requirements:

K-12 Language Programmes

1. English, being the medium of instruction and communication, is taught and facilitated from kindergarten to Senior High School in all subjects.
2. Local and Filipino-Chinese students are required to take Chinese and Filipino as a subject throughout their course of study in school, from kindergarten through grade 12.
3. The school provides English Language Acquisition classes at three different proficiency levels and five different phases identified below in its English as an Additional Language Program for students whose English language has not reached proficient level or who come from other countries where the medium of instruction is a language other than English.

Language and Cultural Development and Appreciation

The school is committed to promoting and developing the students' primary languages in as many programs that the school sponsors or in participation in many language and cultural programs throughout the year. These include the following:

- a . Buwan ng Wikang Pambansa (Filipino Language Month) held in August of every school year.
- b . Communication Arts Olympiad sponsored by the Federation of Private School Association in the areas of video essay, spoken poetry, flash fiction challenge, storytelling, and newcasting in Filipino.
- c . Chinese New Year Festivities, 成语绘画比赛 Chinese Idiom Drawing Contest; Group Chinese Singing Contest, Amoy Speaking Contest, held throughout the school year.
成语绘画比赛

EAL Pathway to Full Mainstream

HCHS provides a pull-out English as an Additional Language (EAL) program for students whose home language or who come from schools where the medium of instruction is a language other than English.

Upon entry, the school administers the English Language Placement and Diagnostic test that places English learners into four groups or categories: Basic, A, B, and C, which correspond to the three levels of proficiency described by the MYP Proficiency levels: Emerging (Basic), Capable (levels A and B), and Proficient (level C) levels with each proficiency level having two phases: 1 and 2 for Emerging, 3 and 4 for Capable, and 5 and 6 for Proficient level.

EAL students are placed into special subjects such as art, music, physical and health education, and ICT but are placed in the EAL program during the core subjects schedule until they meet the language proficiency requirements for those subjects.

The following defines the criteria for full inclusion and placement in regular subjects:

Part A: Students coming from countries where the medium of instruction or whose home language is not English have to meet performance level 5 of the Middle Years Programme for placement into the core subject areas:

- i. Produces generally high-quality work using some rich and varied language.

- ii. Communicates good understanding of linguistic concepts and contexts through the effective use of language in response to a variety of literary and non-literary texts.
- iii. Demonstrates critical and creative thinking, sometimes with sophistication, to analyze and construct language.
- iv. Usually transfers knowledge and applies skills in familiar classroom and real-world situations, with some independence.

Language Acquisition grade of 5 on a scale of 1-7, page 62

Specifically, the criteria for placement into full inclusion or mainstream upon entry into the school are defined in the following language areas:

CONDUCT / DEPARTMENT

The department is the conduct exhibited by the student as observed by the teachers during English and Chinese classes. Therefore, the department of the student is the average grade computed from the grades submitted by all the teachers of both sessions. Thus, the computation is 1/3 from the Chinese Department and 2/3 from the English Department for Grades 1-10.

Department Mark:

95 and above	=	A+
94 – 92	=	A
91 – 89	=	A-
88 – 86	=	B+
85 – 83	=	B
82 – 80	=	B-
79 – 77	=	C+
76 – 75	=	C
74 – below	=	C-

In the case of the Senior High School, all teachers/instructors will evaluate the conduct of the students in their respective subjects and average this as a whole. This may reflect in their Recommendation Letters and/or Certificate of Good Moral Character.

CONDUCT PROBATION

A student who receives a conduct of C in the periodic report card is placed on conduct probation status. Once a student is on a conduct probation, status his/her progress is closely monitored. The duration of the conduct probation status is one term. If there is no progress, the conduct probation status period may be extended, or the student may be asked to change school environment.

PROMOTION AND RETENTION

GRADES 1-10

The student should have the final weighted average of at least 75% (D); otherwise, he/she is retained in the same level.

If a student incurred failures in one or two minor or major subjects, he/she is required to attend remedial classes during summer. Failure in more than two major subjects is considered retained. Two (2) minor subjects is equivalent to one (1) major subject.

A student who was retained in the same level for two consecutive years is asked to transfer to another school.

GRADES 11-12

A student should have at least a final grade of 75 in all subjects in a semester in order to be promoted to the next level. If a student fails in a prerequisite subject, he must pass remedial classes for failed competencies in the subject before being allowed to enroll in the higher-level subject.

AWARDS AND RECOGNITION (Adapted from DepEd Order No. 36)

The Policy Guidelines on Awards and Recognition for the K to 12 Basic Education Program articulates the recognition given to learners who have shown exemplary performance in specific areas of their school life. These guidelines are anchored in the Classroom Assessment for the K to 12 Basic Education Program (DepEd Order No. 8 s. 2015), which supports learners' holistic development in order for them to become effective lifelong learners with 21st – century skills. This policy aims to give all learners equal opportunity to excel in relation to the standard set by the curriculum and focus on their own performance rather than to compete with one another. It recognizes that all students have their unique strengths that need to be identified, strengthened, and publicly acknowledged.

In support of the holistic development of Filipino learners, it is important to veer away from valuing only academic performance based on high grades and move toward valuing and celebrating a wide range of student achievements. The awards aim to acknowledge and promote student excellence in various areas and to provide formal recognition of student achievements that can motivate learners to strive for excellence in academic, leadership, and social responsibility. In effect, the policy encourages all learners to remarkably and skillfully perform specific kinds of tasks critical to their success in school and at work. Consequently, the policy will include all learners and encourage them to be proactive members of their school and community.
